

National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University

Technology Transfer Incentive Fund Management Regulations

Approved at the 4th Administrative Meeting of the University for the 2020 Academic Year on April 28, 2021

Approved by the National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University Endowment Fund Management Committee at the 2nd Meeting for the 2020 Academic Year on May 11, 2021

- Article 1 The National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University (hereinafter referred to as the University) has established these regulations in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations of the government authorities in order to utilize the incentive funds allocated by the National Science and Technology Council for the outstanding technology transfer contribution award and the center of academia and industry collaboration scholarship, and to reward all research results of the University for completing technology transfer.
- Article 2 In addition to the proportion allocated to individuals based on these regulations, the rest of the incentive funds received by the University shall be used for the management and promotion of R&D results.
If the organization granting the incentive funds explicitly requires the provision of matching funds, the University will cooperate in accordance with the relevant regulations, and the University will coordinate the use of the funds.
- Article 3 The following are the targets of these regulations:
Except for creators or personnel who accomplished service achievements subject to the provisions of these regulations, they shall be faculty, staff or students of the University (hereinafter referred to as “allocation right holders”). The allocation right holders shall be faculty (including but not limited to retired emeritus professors, adjunct faculty, and chair professors) or staff members appointed, employed, or hired by the University, or students enrolled in the University as of the date of notification of approval of the award application by the National Science and Technology Council. If the original allocation right holder no longer has the above status at the date of notification, the original portion of the award will be allocated to the other allocation right holders in proportion to their status.
- Article 4 Depending on the source of funding, the technology transfer incentive can be divided into:
a. National Science and Technology Council subsidized research results outstanding technology transfer contribution award;
b. National Science and Technology Council center of academia and industry collaboration scholarship;
c. General technology transfer award.
Item 3 of the preceding paragraph refers to the source of funding for technology transfer licenses, derivative benefits and other equity income generated from the technology transfer cases.
- Article 5 The criteria for the allocation of the award for outstanding technology transfer contribution to research results by the National Science and Technology Council are as follows:
a. Creator: 50%;
b. The University: 20% (for R&D results management and promotion related purposes);
c. Personnel who have contributed to technology transfer cases: 30%.
- Article 6 The criteria for the allocation of the MOST Technology Transfer Center grants are as follows:
a. Center of Academia and Industry Collaboration, Office of Research and Development of the University for the purpose of managing and promoting R&D results: 90%;
b. Personnel who accomplished achievements in undertaking technology transfer cases: 10%.
- Article 7 The general technology transfer awards shall be paid as follows: The University shall allocate a certain percentage of the technology transfer license fee, derivative benefit fee and other equity income generated from the technology transfer case to the meritorious personnel of the technology transfer case.
The University shall allocate 5% of the university administration fee from the equity income.
- Article 8 These regulations shall be implemented after being approved in the Administrative Meeting and by the Endowment Fund Management Committee, and shall be amended in the same manner.